SUMMARY

I am an aspiring Full-stack Developer and Entrepreneur. Currently, I am a student at KCAU University and African Leadership University. I have hands-on experience in various programming languages and technologies. I am driven by a desire to create innovative and user-centric solutions to solve real-world challenges.

My mission is to transform the educational landscape for refugees and internally displaced persons by developing applications that provide better educational opportunities and entrepreneurial skills, enabling refugee youths to realize their potential and build hopeful futures.
