SUMMARY

I am an aspiring Full-stack Developer and Entrepreneur. Currently, I am a student at KCA University and African Leadership University. I have hands-on experience in various programming languages and technologies. I am driven by a desire to create innovative and user-centric solutions to solve real-world challenges.

My mission is to transform the educational landscape for refugees and internally displaced persons by developing applications that provide better educational opportunities and entrepreneurial skills-enabling refugee youths to realize their potential and build hopeful futures.
